Foreword by the Leader of the Council

This consultation document sets out our budget plans for consultation as in previous years. However, there are some important changes in our approach to financial and business planning this year.

We have set out the “Birmingham 2020: Forward Together” vision statement. This is framed by the council’s priorities of prosperity, fairness and democracy. The vision was approved by the Cabinet and debated at the City Council on 1 December. I hope that people and organisations throughout the city will engage in the debate on that vision as it develops further in the months and years ahead. We want you to see the City Council as your council.

As well as setting the budget for 2016/17 in March, we are preparing a plan for how we intend to balance the budget over the medium term. This is in line with government announcements to date but the draft funding settlement won’t be available until December and in final form until January. We anticipate that this will be another challenging settlement and we currently estimate that we must make further savings of over £250m over the next four years.

As this document makes clear the years ahead will see profound change in local government, not least in Birmingham and the West Midlands. The Government intends to phase out the main corporate government grant funding to local authorities completely by 2020 but will allow us to retain all the income from business rates at a local level. We will have more independence, but there are also big questions about how this will impact on the resources available in Birmingham and the additional responsibilities councils will be expected to undertake in return.

New city-regional leadership will be put in place through the Combined Authority, with new powers devolved from central government to allow us to drive economic growth and investment. The council’s organisation will become much more strategic and much smaller and there will be important changes to the ways that people can engage in their local community, such as the new local council for Sutton Coldfield.

These are times of great challenge and great opportunity for the city and the City Council, starting with the difficult decisions we have to make on the budget up to 2019/20, which are set out in this document. But we now have a vision for the future of the City Council in place and this will help guide our decisions.

I would urge you to get involved in this consultation and to give us your ideas about how to run the City Council better and how to make the savings we need to make. Thank you for your contribution to that process.

The Purpose of this Document

This is the formal consultation document for the Council's 2016+ business plan and budget. It sets out the savings proposals for 2016/17 – 2019/20

This document is accompanied by a series of fact sheets explaining the proposals in context. The fact sheets can be found on <http://www.birmingham.gov.uk/brumbudget16>

The consultation document and the fact sheets are intended to give information on the proposed allocation of savings and the individual proposals, so that you can give your views as part of the formal consultation. These views will be fed back to Council Members to inform their decision on the budget in March 2016.

Please note this document sets out broad issues for the corporate consultation and the overall budget position. There will also be specific consultation on different services.

Feedback from Previous Budget Consultations

We have consulted about our plans, priorities and budget proposals over the last four years. These views informed our budget decisions and the development of our business plans. We have also continued to talk to our stakeholders: residents, communities, partners, organisations and businesses. We appreciate this valuable engagement and have built on your input to develop our 2020 vision and the plans and budget proposals contained in this document.

Through the budget consultations over the last four years there have been some broad consistent messages, namely:

- Support for the council's priorities of supporting vulnerable people, tackling inequality and deprivation, safeguarding children and ensuring dignity for older people. You have shown concern about any potential cuts to services for vulnerable and disadvantaged people.
- Support for targeting resources at those most in need.
- A call for greater partnership planning and working, and better communication and integration of services to avoid duplication to deliver better results for the citizens of Birmingham.
- Prevention and early intervention is seen as important. Partnership needs to focus on prevention, on public education and on encouraging citizen and business responsibility and social action.
- General support for "triple-devolution" and most recently the idea of a combined authority. You have also been supportive of moves towards greater collaboration and the creation of new decision-making structures at a city region level for strategic issues such as economic development.
- Support for the Council taking a lead in bringing people together to find ways of preserving services and community amenities.
- Concern about outsourcing to the private sector.
- Asking us to take a long-term approach.
- Concern about the future of young people in the city.

Section One B

Summary of Engagement from District Community Workshops

We recently ran a series of District Community Workshops to start engagement with the community around the future for our city and the role of the Council. We asked for views on what citizens wanted the city to be in 2020 and beyond and what role the council, other organisations, businesses and the citizen should play. We had the following feedback:

Vision for the City 2020+

Vision themes that occurred most frequently were for a city that:

- Stands up for itself where citizens have pride and dignity, have a sense of purpose and direction, and take responsibility.
- Is inclusive, with engaged communities, provides for the needs of all its residents and protects and supports the most vulnerable.
- Is fairer and more equal.
- Has a strong community spirit where residents are informed and feel that they own the city.
- Is a devolved city where citizens have a say on local issues and services are democratically accountable.
- Values and provides education, training, employment and other opportunities for its young people.
- Is a good place to grow old.
- Through its links into the Combined Authority and independent action, attracts investment and retains firms.
- Ensures investment benefits all parts of the city and not just the city centre.
- Links into the digital economy where all can access the internet.
- Is creative and adaptive and at the cultural cutting edge.
- Has an excellent, integrated and green transport system.

- Ensures social or affordable housing is available for all.
- Is safe and clean.
- Improves health and wellbeing.

Key roles identified for the Council included:

- Providing strong but accountable political leadership and management at both a city-wide and local level.
- Encouraging community activity particularly in areas where community organisation is weaker and co-ordinating volunteer work.
- Doing more enforcement through its own tenancies and with the private sector.
- Communicating good quality information using different communication methods for different groups in the city.
- Enabling not necessarily delivering services. But need better control of cost and quality of contractors. Some scepticism about this.
- Libraries working with local businesses to ensure free internet access for everyone.
- Concentrating resources in areas where there was greatest need in partnership with others.
- Providing one stop shop/'one doorway in' for related requests for services in partnership with others, and investing in buildings where community groups can meet.

Other roles

- Businesses needed to take responsibility for cleanliness and safety in the areas surrounding their workplace. Businesses also need to invest more in community organisations and share their skills and knowledge with them.
- Residents need to be more engaged, take pride in their streets and act appropriately.
- Communities should be more joined up, working to share services and facilities.
 1. Schools should be more engaged with their local communities.
 2. Trust has to be built amongst all partners and between the citizen and the Council.

We plan to continue to build on this work over the next month.

Section Two

The Current Financial Position

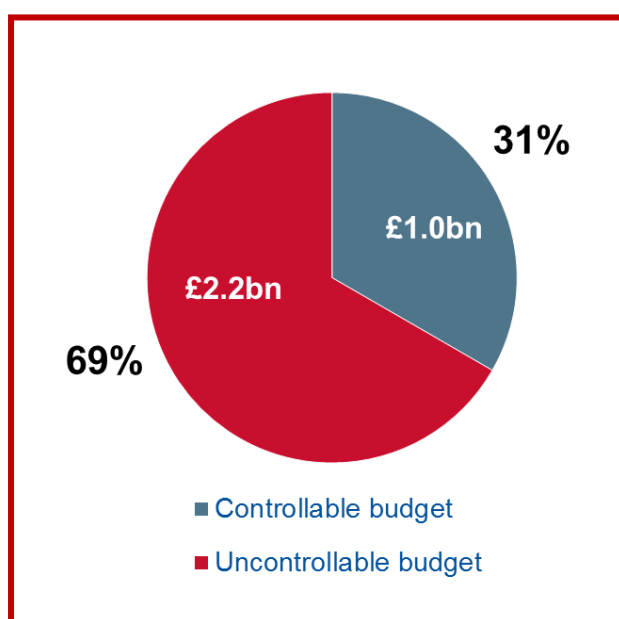

The City Council is heavily dependent upon Government grants to meet the costs of services, which makes it very vulnerable to cutbacks in those grants.

However, although the total 2015/16 Council expenditure is £3.2bn, a large proportion of our funding must be spent on specific services. For example, £787m of grant funding must be spent on school services, and another £551m is to reimburse the Council for meeting Housing Benefit costs. Other areas of spending, such as debt financing costs, are fixed and unavoidable.

This means that only around a third of expenditure is directly controllable by the Council, and savings have to be made from this much smaller budget figure.

Forecast levels of Government grants have been updated in the light of the recent Spending Review announcement. We estimate that this means that our corporate grants will reduce by £167m per annum by 2019/20, compared with the £406m received in 2015/16. However, information is only available at a national level and draft details for Birmingham will not be released by the Government until towards the end of December, which means that the financial challenge facing the Council could be different from what we currently think.

At the same time as receiving reductions in Government grant, the Council also faces pressures to spend more on services, which will amount to an extra £169m per annum by 2019/20. "Expenditure pressures" covers a range of costs, including:

- The effects of inflation
- The extra costs associated with the National Living Wage (particularly on the costs of care contracts)
- The impact of growing numbers of older people requiring care
- Continued investment in children's social care, (taking the total extra investment to £31m per annum)
- Meeting the costs of borrowing
- Changes in the level of the use of reserves

Our forecasts of future Council Tax and Business Rates income have also been updated, and these are expected to provide an extra £78m per annum by 2019/20. We are proposing:

- An increase of 2% each year in Council Tax, and
- To take up the opportunity provided following the Government's Spending Review announcement that Councils are able to raise a "Social Care Precept" by increasing Council Tax by a further 2% each year to provide extra funding to meet costs of social care, including National Living Wage and growth in the number of older people needing support (the expected costs of which alone are forecast to exceed the additional income generated from this precept). This is subject to confirmation by the Government of the arrangements.

Income from business rates will grow as Birmingham's economy grows and also in line with the annual increases which we expect to be announced by the Government.

Taking all this together, the further savings that we now need to make (on top of the annual savings of over £560m that the Council has already made from 2010/11 up to 2015/16) are summarised in the table overleaf. We have previously consulted on some of the savings which are already included in the Council's future financial plans. This consultation document concentrates on the remaining proposals. Further solutions still need to be developed for a small residual balance from 2018/19 onwards.

	2016/17	2017/18	2018/19	2019/20

Savings now being consulted on	(74)	(141)	(181)	(216)
Other solutions to be determined	0	0	19	5

The Council has previously established an Organisational Transition Reserve to help soften the impact of the financial challenge and provide a contingency against the risks associated with achieving the necessary level of organisational change and savings delivery. In these proposals, £32m of this reserve is planned to be used in 2017/18, leaving around £40m as a contingency. However, before 2017/18 we will continue to identify further savings opportunities which may reduce the call upon this reserve.

In arriving at the figures shown in the tables above, we have assumed that:

- When the Government announces reductions in grants provided for specific purposes (for example, Public Health and Education Services Grants) that this will be managed by reducing spending in these areas.
- We will be able to use resources from selling assets to fund the cost of change programmes we are delivering following the Spending Review announcement by the Chancellor. It will be important for the City Council to generate sufficient capital receipts from the rationalisation of its property holdings in order to fund this approach.

However, as mentioned above, the detailed arrangements regarding the above two points will not start to become clear until late December. Therefore, whilst this is our basis for planning, we may need to change our approach once the details are announced by the Government.

It is important to stress that a major part of the savings now being consulted on as well as previously consulted on is crucially dependent on making rapid joint progress with Birmingham NHS leaders towards a much larger, more extensive integration and transformation of the City's health and social care system. This is described more in Section Four (2) below, under the heading "Maximising the independence of adults", but it is also important here to highlight the City Council's intentions to use the maximum possible discretion it has financially, deploying also to best effect recent Government commitments towards further support for adult social care and the Better Care Fund Programme, to ensure this larger integration ambition succeeds.

Section Three

Vision for the Future Council in 2020

We continue to face considerable financial challenges as we have set out in the previous section. Our priorities of prosperity, fairness and democracy and high ambition for the city remain. Our approach to service provision and the associated budget and Long Term Financial Strategy is guided by our vision and our priorities for the Future Council.

The Cabinet approved an initial paper setting out its vision for the Future Council on 17 November. You can read the full paper on our website.

But this is just a contribution to the debate we want to have about how the council will change in the years ahead. The full City Council debated the issue on 1 December and a number of "Taking the Council to the People" events have already taken place across the city to get ideas and views from residents. These were not part of the formal budget consultation process but helped us to test some aspects of the developing vision.

This document confirms our overall mission to help create a fairer, more prosperous and more democratic city.

Within those broad goals the vision is for a city with:

Safety and opportunity for all children - every child having a fantastic childhood and the best preparation for adult life.

The City Council has sought to make sure that sufficient resources to deliver the improvement plan for early help and children's social care are maintained within the current budget. The improvement plan was agreed by the Cabinet and the Department for Education in April 2015, the delivery of which remains the council's number one priority.

This will be supported by an integrated early years and health service. Every school will be rated good and work together in the Birmingham Education Partnership and with the council, parents and other partners. Families and children will receive targeted help as early as possible and, if needed a team of great social workers and allied professions will help the child and their family further. Special educational needs and disability services will be focused on enablement and personalised to each family.

A great future for young people - no young person will be left behind, vocational and technical skills will be as accessible and valued as academic ones and young people will get the very best in careers advice and exposure to the world of work.

This will be supported by an integrated approach to education, skills and careers advice.

A strong economy – an enterprising, innovative, green city delivering sustainable growth and strengthening Birmingham’s global standing, with a focus on employment and skills as the route out of poverty.

This will be supported by the work of the Combined Authority and through an integrated employment and skills system, managing waste as a resource and investment in transport infrastructure.

Thriving local communities - more and more citizens will be able to access the life, economy and benefits of living in Birmingham, from employment to leisure and culture. Every citizen will be living within a strong and cohesive community which values and supports each of its members and is empowered to influence the services and decisions affecting their neighbourhood.

This will be supported by ensuring citizens can enjoy a vibrant cultural offer, bringing together libraries, learning centres and community hubs to provide community services and one front door for City Council services, all of which are focused on learning and increasing residents’ independence.

A healthy, happy population - citizens will have a high quality of health and the same life expectancy irrespective of where they live in our city, every citizen will have access to an affordable and decent home, vulnerable citizens will feel safe, live with dignity and independence and have engaged lives in their communities. Citizens having greater control and independence and making informed choices about who they want to provide the care and support they require.

This will be supported by ensuring citizens have access to fully integrated health and social care services that help maintain independence and provide care to those who need it. People will be able to get the service they require or the correct information and advice in one place, irrespective of who the provider is. All citizens who have an assessed, eligible care need will have access to either a direct payment or individual budget. Sports and physical activities, parks and open spaces that contribute to people’s health and wellbeing will be delivered in partnership with others.

A modern council – a one contact approach which aims to get it right first time, puts people first, endeavours to achieve excellence and acts openly and honestly. It provides value for money and duplication is eradicated. It is a strategic influencer, rather than always being a direct provider of services.

Section Four

Our Approach

The Future Council programme

Due to the scale of funding reductions but also the changing times in which we operate, the City Council has recognised that there is a need for radical change in how our organisation works – its role and functions and the culture that determines how we work together with the people of the city.

To address these challenges, the City Council set up the Future Council programme during 2015 to deliver an integrated and strategic approach to managing the necessary changes. This has taken on board all the recommendations of the Kerslake review of corporate governance, published in December 2014 and the ongoing advice and support from the Improvement Panel set up at the beginning of this year.

As an organisation it means, we may change as follows:

- From an all-purpose council to a strategic council, working with others to deliver fewer, predominantly targeted services
- From a big to medium size employer - fewer staff (and fewer councillors)
- From fixing problems later to delivering earlier targeted prevention
- From running services to influencing service provision - from service provider to service gateway
- From single tier to multi-level city government – the Triple Devolution Model
- From just responding to demand for our services to understanding and appropriately influencing demand as appropriate
- From council-led to partnership-led
- From top down service management to citizen-focused and responsive services
- From small numbers of big providers to a diverse network of providers
- From investment in internal capacity to investment in community capacity
- From extensive asset ownership to using our assets to enhance others' capacity to deliver
- From a large administrative support to a small core, sharing intelligence and supporting strategic and community leadership

- From dedicated services to shared services – both back office and frontline – without presumption that Birmingham City Council is the direct deliverer
- From departmentalised support services to a single support services function (which may be shared or externalised)
- From 2000 IT to 2020 IT – new, agile solutions and new providers
- From a reactive member role to a proactive one which finds solutions and offers community leadership

How we will do this

Based on feedback from this consultation, our approach will be:

- To start by considering your priorities and the things that matter to you. The work that we do and how we do it must be based on the results we want to achieve not the functions, services and buildings we have inherited. In designing our organisation we will see the council's services and resources as just some of the tools the city has to achieve those results.
- A belief that partnership is the way in which we achieve our goals. Big challenges need partnership solutions – because no one organisation has the power to address them alone. We will be a partnership based organisation because we have ambition for the city.
- A belief that the purpose of local government is to empower others to achieve their goals. It invests in building stronger and more resilient people, families, organisations and communities so that both our shared and our individual goals can be achieved. We will build a partnership between city council and communities in which each supports the other.

These are supported by the following design principles for the changing organisation:

- We will take a Whole Place, Whole City view - the future approach will be based on partnerships and influence.
- We will target our resources on our key priorities and results.
- We will focus on reducing or preventing future need and better ways of addressing pressures on services.
- We will promote the independence of citizens.

- We will operate at three levels – regional, city, and local – adopting “Triple Devolution”.
- We will have a variety of delivery models for services with no presumption that the council should be the direct deliverer.
- We will have a flexible and adaptable workforce - whether directly employed or delivering on our behalf.
- We will govern ourselves in a way that aligns with our political and organisational values.

Better meeting needs

We need to improve our understanding of what drives demand for our services so that we can improve their design and make sure we get things right first time.

We need to:

- Have better information about future service demand
- Actively plan to avoid unnecessary service pressures and support people to be more independent
- Provide better access and reduce multiple contacts – getting it right first time
- Work in a more joined up way with partners

We have identified six themes that are the focus in our budget planning.

By designing new approaches in these 6 areas we believe we can reduce cost and deliver better outcomes:

1. Preventing family breakdown

Families are the centre of children’s lives. Family is the place more than anywhere else that children learn and develop. Parents are responsible for the development and well-being of their children. For a minority of parents additional support is needed to enable them to parent well. We seek to support disadvantaged families through a range of interventions so that their children can thrive.

We will work positively with families to enable them to identify what they want to change and support them to make changes that improve their children’s lives. We want to target support to families so that where they are struggling we can help them to improve their parenting skills so that children are safer and can thrive. Working in this way will help reduce conflict within families and the need for children to come into care.

We are developing edge of care services that will particularly help teenagers and their families.

We recognise that supporting children with additional needs can place additional pressures on families and we want to work alongside these families to help them to be as independent and resilient as possible.

We recognise that there will always be some children who are unable to live within their family. For these children we want to provide high quality long-term alternative family care through, adoption, special guardianship or foster care based on each child's individual needs. This requires good social work that listens to children and builds and implements clear plans to find stable long-term solutions for them.

By working in this way we will deliver savings by only having those children in care who need to be, and for those children we will support them in more local, family settings.

We also think we can work more efficiently and make some saving by reducing the number of agency staff and managing staff turnover better.

We are also consulting on an entirely new approach to services for young children and parents. We want to create Early Years services that draw together health services, services that support parents, childcare and early education services to support the 80,000 pre-school children living in Birmingham.

2. Maximising the independence of adults

We want Birmingham to be a city where getting older is a positive experience - a city where older people are as independent as possible, connected with their local communities, with the right support at the right time so they can stay at or close to home. Older people of Birmingham tell us they want less formal 'care' but more informal and community support in their local areas. So we know our current health and social care system has to change. The Council must work with its partners and citizens to make sure the changes being proposed are the right ones and the transition to new ways of working is carried out properly. More integrated services and support should be designed around the City's people to help Birmingham citizens and their families to be able to look after themselves - not have to rely on formal care.

The City has good quality hospitals, GP surgeries, residential homes and community based care like Extra Care (more importantly, hundreds of families/carers in the community providing invaluable support). But, each part of the system is struggling to cope with less money and more people wanting to access services. So there needs to be a modern health and care system where no one spends more time in hospital than necessary. This includes for example: better community support; preventing falls in the home; hospitals and social services developing better alternatives for leaving hospital; and people having easy access to these services. Helping people to stay independent and out of hospital or residential care for longer, will reduce spending over time. Limited resources could be focused on those with the highest levels of need.

To do this requires a long-term, shared ambition and joined up working, starting now. The Council intends to pool its money for adult social care services, along with other relevant spend and assets with hospitals and GP surgeries. The Council is funding the first year of investment needed to deliver change. And the savings planned, whilst reflecting the reality of the cuts to public funding, need to continue to develop an approach to older people that is more what they want as independent adults on a community level and less of what they don't want. This would be a big change for the citizens of Birmingham who use these services. As a city council we will be looking to families first to assist us with maximising independence for those in need of care services.

Services for vulnerable younger adults

People live longer lives if they can remain independent and in their local communities. Our primary focus for younger adults will be to provide support, advice and information to those people who need services to enable them to access these services independently. The city council will only help where this is not possible. We will encourage and promote the use of direct payments rather than offer admittance to residential care as the first and only option. Direct payments can be used to meet needs from a range of local providers in their communities.

3. Sustainable neighbourhoods

Creating a more sustainable environment reduces costs and is better for the health and wellbeing of residents. Changing citizen and business behaviours to reduce waste and increase recycling rates will have direct cost savings. But we must make sure our services get it right first time before we can expect citizens to change their behaviour. We must combine enforcement, education and community ownership of cleaner streets.

Our Open for Learning Strategy will remove reliance upon 'unfit for purpose' buildings so that we can focus on the service delivery, learning and skills - focusing money on service delivery not buildings. Libraries, adult education, youth services, early years and school services will be reviewed to consider alternate ways of accessing services, focused on learning and skills.

Working with other partners – housing associations, voluntary organisations and community groups will ensure that local services are properly joined up and coordinated, with a 'whole place' approach to neighbourhoods, where collaboration and shared resources deliver the best outcomes for local people.

4. Economic Growth and jobs

Economic development and support to job creation, skills training and sustainable business growth can impact greatly on the prosperity and wellbeing of the city and lead to a reduction in demand across a whole swathe of public services. This will have an even more direct impact on our income through the local retention of growing business rates. The future will be framed by collaborative working at a regional and sub-regional level.

Achieving good educational outcomes starts at an early stage and therefore we need to make our children "school ready" in the early years and at key transition points in their educational career, and "work ready" by the time they leave school.

5. The changing workforce

Our direct workforce will be smaller reflecting that outcomes and services will be delivered through new models where staff will not necessarily be directly employed by the Council. The core workforce will be working more flexibly with better technology support and revised skills and capabilities to meet new needs.

6. Council Wide

We will continue to work more efficiently, redesigning our services so that they are as lean as possible. Wherever possible we will deploy technology to ensure processes are joined up and that we 'get it right first time'. We have also identified proposals around changes to the council tax support scheme, the council tax discretionary hardship fund and the local welfare assistance provision scheme to deliver further savings.

P22 Step up of previous Early Years savings On 30th November 2015 a consultation including plans for a new model for delivering a more joined up Early Years offer to support parents and young children was launched. The new services are planned to be in place by 1st September 2017. The savings shown here are the increases in savings which have been built into previous consultations. Maximising the Independence of Adults
MIA2 Design and Implement a new approach to Special Educational Needs and Disabilities and move away from a high dependency model The Council is proposing a long-term, wide-ranging development of the services to children with special educational needs. This would involve working with the children, families, and partner organisations to design and implement the optimum approach to these services shaped by the use of shared data and intelligence, learning and best practice. This may include commissioning of new services, changes to the way services are delivered, and potentially de-commissioning of services. The intention would be to give children with special educational needs services which help them to prepare for adulthood so that they will have the best possible level of independence into later life.	0.000	0.000	0.000	(10.000)

MIA3 Promote independent travel and reduce reliance on council funded transport, underpinned by clear policy We propose to work with families and young people to develop travel solutions that enable the child or young person to access education in the same way that members of their peer group who do not have special educational need or disability would access their education. This includes travelling independently for young people and family based travel solutions for younger children. We want to actively encourage children and young people's independence which can result in them developing as skill for life and will help to develop their confidence and social skills as well as increase their future options for continuing education/training and employment.	(2.463)	(2.634)	(2.634)	(2.854)
MIA5 Internal Care Services - Younger Adults Day Care Birmingham City Council intends to reorganise its internally provided services so that people may choose to buy these or different community based services which meet their assessed needs. Birmingham City Council is committed to developing services for people that help them to live as independently as possible, exercising choice and control over the planning and delivery of the support they need. In the short term we intend to make better use of spare capacity in these services. We intend to undertake a detailed piece of work to identify which centres we propose to close. MIA6 Homelessness: licensing and enforcement in the private rented sector We propose to make more information and advice available online for tenants and landlords. Access to direct phone support will therefore be restricted to high priority cases in an attempt to reduce the demand for telephone and face to face support. This will help us to refer tenants seeking help to appropriate agencies or to use online material to request landlords to carry out repairs, and enable us to focus on high priority cases.	(0.031)	(0.031)	(0.031)	(0.031)
MIA7 Health & Prevention This proposal is about reducing the need and therefore the demand for long term care services. MIA10 Redesign and integrate services at scale across the health and social care economy Last year, the Government launched the Better Care Fund and the City Council and the 3 Clinical Commissioning Groups agreed a plan to improve health and social care for older people in the City. The Better Care Fund proposals last year included savings through the efficiency of joint working in 2015/16 and 2016/17. The first part of this proposal takes into account that further savings are likely to be made in 2017/18 and future years if these arrangements continue. The City Council needs to meet its statutory responsibilities in relation to adult social care as embodied in the Care Act 2014, but with a much reduced budget. The second stage of this proposal is essentially about trying to achieve this by jointly pooling/combining the entire Council spend on older adults, not just on adult social care, with all relevant NHS spend.	(20.000)	(50.000)	(60.000)	(60.000)

MIA18 Internal Care Review - Care Centres The Council feels that it cannot provide residential care for older adults in the Care Centres in a way which represents value for money when compared to providers of similar services within the care market. In order to ensure that it achieves better use of the public purse it must now explore alternative options for their future operation.	(0.300)	(0.700)	(1.500)	(1.500)

MIA20 Internal Care Review - Older Adult Day Care Birmingham City Council intends to reorganise its internally provided services so that people may choose to buy these or different community based services which meet their assessed needs. Birmingham City Council is committed to developing services for people that help them to live as independently as possible, exercising choice and control over the planning and delivery of the support they need. MIA30 Homelessness We are proposing to make further changes to the service to improve the Council's services for homeless households in Birmingham. MIA31 Public Health The Government has announced significant reductions in the Public Health grant and is likely to change the formula which is used to allocate grant to local authorities. We estimate that the impact of these changes will be a reduction of £11.4m in 2016/17 rising to £18.3m in 2019/20. This will severely limit the number of areas of health prevention activity which can be funded by the Council. Detailed proposals will depend on further Government announcements which are expected over the next month. However, we anticipate that it will be necessary to reduce expenditure particularly in Lifestyle services such as weight management, smoking cessation, and promotion of healthy living, including the Wellbeing Service. We may also have to cease funding a range of services provided largely by the voluntary sector to support the 'Early Help Offer' to families.	0.000	0.000	0.000	0.000

EGJ9 Broadening the income base for Marketing Birmingham It is proposed to reduce the cost to the City Council of the contract with Marketing Birmingham through broadening the income base to include contributions from other organisations.	0.000	(0.250)	(0.500)	(0.500)
SN39 To improve income from planning applications and pre application support as the economy improves and lobby the government for more freedoms regarding the setting of planning fees The service expects to receive more planning applications as the economy improves, this will increase income. The Council is in discussions with Government to allow local authorities to set planning fees to fully cover its costs. If this is agreed, at least a 20% increase in fees may be needed. We think that agreeing a change in the law and implementing it would take 2 years.	(0.500)	(0.500)	(1.000)	(1.000)
EGJ10 Self-financing of the Employment and Skills Service (ESS) We propose to reduce activities and consolidate the budget of the ESS and Economic Research & Policy teams and increase income from external funding sources.	(0.200)	(0.300)	(0.400)	(0.400)

E3 More closely aligned functions with partners in the public and private sectors from across the city region We propose to align a number of service areas so that the region benefits from a more coordinated delivery of economic services, which the individual local authorities are about to reduce the cost of service by a reduction in overheads.	(0.150)	(0.150)	(0.150)	(0.150)
E21 Birmingham Property Services Last year we proposed to reduce: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the number of staff in the Birmingham Property Services team; • the number of vacant properties in our commercial property portfolio; and • office security costs. In addition, we proposed to increase rental income from our investment property portfolio. The Changing Workforce
WOC1 Workforce proposals requiring changes to terms and conditions We will review the terms & conditions of our employees to reduce the costs of employment whilst ensuring that there remains a core offer that is fair, legally compliant and aligned to our Living Wage City commitment. We propose to consult with staff and Trades Unions around a package of changes that could include: a new deal on holidays, more flexible working, increasing the number of hours in the working week, reducing sick pay and other changes that may impact pay.	0.000	(15.000)	(18.000)	(18.000)
WOC2 Improving efficiencies We want to make sure that all services have clear plans regarding how they spend money on workforce costs. This is so the Council can better manage spending on the use of resources such as: agency workers, consultants and casual workers. We also want to create more opportunities for local people through the expansion of our apprenticeship and intern schemes. Whilst we need to reduce our costs of employment we also need to ensure that we remain competitive and comparable with modern working practices and that we can continue to recruit and retain the best employees, so that we can provide excellent services to our citizens. We will do this by enabling more employees to be able to work agilely, and support them to develop their skills, experience and careers.	(10.560)	(13.994)	(15.881)	(16.281)

CC21 Universal Credit Changes permitting staff reduction in contact centre With the introduction of Universal Credit, we are expecting to receive less calls relating to Housing Benefit, because people on Universal Credit will not be receiving this benefit from the Council, they will be receiving it from the Department of Work and Pensions.	(0.092)	(0.184)	(0.184)	(0.184)

CC24 Reducing the affordability gap to the Council resulting from existing BSF schools contracts The Building Schools for the Future (BSF) Programme provided Capital Grant Funding. We were required to ensure that each Design and Build project was supported by a Facility Management (FM) arrangement where a 3rd party organisation runs the building on the School/Academies behalf. The cost of the FM contracts is met by the Council and each School/Academy contributes its former premises related budget to support the arrangement. However, these budgets do not meet the full cost of the contract. As a consequence there is a cost to the Council. It is proposed to re-scope services within each of the contracts.	(0.700)	(0.700)	(0.700)	(0.700)
