

School Health Advisory Service Commissioning Strategy

What do we have to do?

Mandatory

National Childhood Measurement Programme
(NCMP)

Our vision: What do we want to achieve?

To enable children and young people to attend and engage with school, in order to achieve and fulfil their potential.

Influences

The current School Health Service is only one of the influences upon children and Young People, and school is only one of a number of settings in which Children and Young People are to be found and engaged with.

What are the priorities?

- Early Intervention and Prevention
- Safeguarding
- Working with priority / vulnerable groups
- Promoting health weight
- Emotional health and wellbeing
- Sexual health (including teenage pregnancy)
- Substance misuse (drugs, alcohol and tobacco)

Commissioning Approach

- We will commission an school based service to support Student's Health & Wellbeing.
- We will commission the full range of services that we are responsible for and collaborate with other commissioners to shape the services for which they are responsible.
- We will commission the best deal on mandatory services (quality and cost).
- There will be an open and transparent procurement framework.
- We will actively create the market conditions necessary to support the delivery of our vision.
